Above the Line: Reshaping Relationships and Community in the 21st Century Church

Peter McHugh

Above the Line: Reshaping Relationships and Community in the 21st Century Church Peter McHugh Peter has been in pastoral ministry for over 25 years. In that time he has planted two churches with his wife Lyn. He has also facilitated the planting of seven other churches. Increasingly Peter has found himself being called to pastor other pastors. Drawing upon his experiences with the Lord during his own walk, Peter has been able to enable others to experience revelation and freedom by learning how to lead from who they are in Christ. Today, he and Lyn lead Stairway Church Whitehorse in Melbourne, have three married children and two grandchildren.

This book is quietly revolutionary. Peter McHugh's amazing journey into the 'more of God' has given him such practical wisdom and understanding. It is from that place that 'Above the Line' was written. Peter's leadership, and even his writing style comes from a heart of rest and trust in the process of God. Yet he is bold to declare the priority of his life in saying, "We have traded the safe, predictable, suburban style of Christianity for a radical pursuit of all the New Testament promises." Be forewarned, you will be encouraged, educated, and inspired. But most of all you will unlikely be able to stay as you are now.
Bill Johnson
Senior Pastor - Bethel Church, Redding, CA Author - "When Heaven Invades Earth" & "Face to Face with God"

This book is a pertinent, profound and practical follow on from 'A Voyage of Mercy'. The concept of living and ministering predominantly 'Above the Line' gives principled and specific encouragement and guidance for leaders and churches to pursue the establishment of somewhat different foundations and priorities for the future. I believe God has led Peter again to effectively enunciate what is His most urgent and important challenge for leaders and churches in Australia and beyond.
