SOMETIMES WHAT A GIRL IS RUNNING TO, IS MORE DANGEROUS THAN WHAT SHE'S RUNNING FROM...

Curvy bad girl Summer James is ready to grow up. Tired of her boyfriend's drug dealing ways, she makes him promise that he's going to clean up his act and go back to school.

But when he begs her to do one more lucrative deal, worth a whopping $20,000, she relents, thinking it'll be their final hurrah before entering the real world for good.

So when she finds out he lied to her, and is smuggling cocaine and several hundred thousand dollars worth of dirty drug money, she's terrified. She has no idea what he's gotten into, and she wants no part of it. Scared, she takes off with a cool hundred grand, and flees into the desert.

Now she's on the run, and the cops are in hot pursuit. Fortunately for her, she befriends sexy motorcycle riding bad boy, Russ, and for once in her life she feels safe in his strong arms. The chemistry between the two kindred spirits immediately erupts into an intense, fervid, all-consuming passion. Taken by her luscious curves, Russ agrees to protect her as they make their way to the international border.

The only problem is, Russ is also on the run, and he's hiding a deep, dark secret. He's a tiger shifter with a bounty on his head, and the tigers after him are infinitely more vicious and savage than anything Summer has ever encountered.

Will the star-crossed lovers' ravenous cravings for one another be enough to get them to safety?

Or is what Summer is running to more dangerous than what she's running from?
